

March Newsletter for 3C & 3D

The Pajama Party, Pancakes, and Exercising surely made for fun learning during our health and nutrition unit. A big THANK YOU to all the parents preparing our pancakes snack, planning and hosting our wonderful Valentine parties, and sewing pillows for our Pajama Party.

As March blows in, Teacher's will be continuing to learn new and exciting things to bring back into the classroom after attending a conference in Chicago March 3rd therefore there will be no school on this day. We will explore what an Author and an Illustrator are by celebrating a belated Dr. Seuss Birthday. We will celebrate by having a WACKY WEDNESDAY March 8th. On this day wear your wacky clothes or wear your clothes backwards. Then we finish out our week with some wild crazy Hat fun. Bring in your craziest hat you can find or make to share with the class.

We will explore different aspects of the wind. We will blow paint on kites. We'll also do experiments to discover what wind can move and then predict what things we can move with our own wind.

Boxes will be exciting and interesting to study for children and adults alike. We need your help in gathering a collection of boxes-different types, many sizes, varied shapes, old boxes and new boxes. As we study boxes, we are going to be learning many new concepts and skills in literacy as we build our box vocabulary and talk about what box may hold and might be used for. Sorting, categorizing and experiments with boxes will expand our science and math concepts in the classroom.

We will learn about the artist Jackson Pollock as we paint in a box to create a splatter painting and also create structures with our boxes.

To finish our study about boxes we will have a surprise box which will introduce our next study unit about pets.

Lifetouch will also be here taking Spring Photos of the children after break on March 15th. Bring your smile!

Vision and Hearing rescreening will be done on March 17th.
